Unfortunately, what I've been advised is these are questions that would need to go through your law director. If you have already tried that and did not receive a reply, you could request council to provide outside counsel for the legal questions you haven't been provided by the law director. That could either prompt them to order the law director to provide the legal advice; get you outside counsel to obtain the legal advice; or at the very least document that you have made all attempts to be in compliance.

Good morning Cara

Would you be able to refer me to the area of the AOS that could answer a question about when legislation to approve elected officials pay rates must be approved? Or when they can take effect?
Thanks.

Karen

Karen,

I am so sorry for that. Typically, our training office reaches back to everyone once we have the speakers confirmed for the date, which I do so the day after you submitted the request. Looking back at the timeframe of your submission, there was a big turnover in the Training department and I'm guessing this slipped through the cracks.

When you get time, send me some dates that will work for you in the New Year.

Cara

I never heard back from anyone from the state confirming or denying my request. I never scheduled it here.

When I went online there was an exception for short notice and when I didn't hear back, I thought it could not be accommodated.

Let's try for the New Year.

Hi Karen. I look forward to seeing you tomorrow for the Fraud Presentation.

Just confirming that there will be a projector available that I can plug my laptop into so everyone can view the presentation.

Should I just come to your office in City Hall tomorrow or is there another room where we're meeting? Thanks.
